Art You Can Wear

My Focus is on Brides

How I View Creativity ...

I create handmade wearable art jewelry. Each piece of jewelry is one-of-a-kind, individually designed and created by me. My pieces incorporate a variety of weaving and jewelry techniques. Sometimes I create a design around a special stone or element that I've discovered in my worldwide travels.

I have learned that creativity is a continuing journey. I constantly experiment with new materials and approaches while I construct pieces. The result is that each of my designs has unique characteristics and qualities.

Each and every one of my jewelry pieces is lovingly and painstakingly handcrafted by me from the finest materials.

Crystals in their infinite and unique natural forms have always intrigued me. So I include them in my designs whenever I possibly can for their texture and eye-catching qualities.

My goal always is to create a work of art that brings enjoyment to you, whether it is worn or displayed ... and at affordable prices.

You are a very special person and your wedding day is the most special day of your life!

I want to contribute to your magical moment with my unique art jewelry designs.

Let me show you some of the one-of-a-kind pearl, gemstone, and crystal pieces I have created and the variety of designs that I can create – just for you.

I can design original individual pieces for each member of your wedding party or coordinate designs for a very sophisticated “look” at your wedding.

My art jewelry pieces are collector jewelry that will be cherished for a lifetime.

As the saying goes, “something old, something new”. In addition to my art jewelry creations, I offer a few carefully selected vintage jewelry pieces. I can even supply that “something blue” for you.

You'll enjoy fine handcrafted art jewelry and a personalized shopping experience at Diana Kirkpatrick-Art You Can Wear.
